

TESTING OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNER STUDENTS IN THE STANDARDIZED ACHIEVEMENT TEST PROGRAM

It is the policy of the School District of New Berlin to provide English Language Learners (ELL) Students with the same access to educational services and programs as are provided to non-ELL students. ELL students should be given the opportunity to acquire and demonstrate their academic achievement. Unless formally exempted, ELL students will participate in the standardized achievement test program. In determining whether or not specific students should be excluded from the standardized test program, the School District of New Berlin will comply with the provisions of state statutes and administrative code.
