

EverFi Financial Scholars Program

Layton State Bank is understandably passionate about financial literacy. As a result, they have sponsored the Financial Scholars Program powered by EverFi for the past three years. We have used this online program for enrichment in many of our elective business courses.

In support of the vision of our graduate, we decided to make the Financial Scholars program more accessible to students during the 2014-15 school year. Consequently, all freshmen will have the opportunity to go through the program during the 2nd semester. Michael Fesenmaier, Director of Special Projects, is leading the implementation of this project.

Those students who successfully complete the Financial Scholars Program in its entirety will earn a 'Financial Scholar badge' and have the opportunity to win a number of valuable prizes also sponsored by Layton State Bank.

We are extremely thankful for their generous support of this program for the benefit of SDNB students.

Left to right: Laura Schmidt, Interim Director of College and Career Readiness, SDNB; Joe Garza, Superintendent, SDNB; Gary Szpara, V Business Development, Layton State Bank; Kim Ingram - Retail Manager and Compliance Office, Layton State Bank; Carla Breunig - President CEO, Layton State Bank; Dave Maxey, President, Board of Education SDNB; Michael Fesenmaier, Director of Special Projects, SDNB