Wild World Classes Include:

ELEPHANT SILHOUETTES- Saving the Savanna

Elephants are the largest land mammals on Earth! Kids learn about these gentle giants and the conservationists who are working to protect them, while using a silhouette painting technique to create an elephant and tree shadows on a canvas sunset background.

SPECKLED FROGS- Amphibian Alliance

Frogs come in many colors and patterns. Some are bold and some are camouflaged. Kids find out more about amphibians, the most threatened group of vertebrates in the world, and use a salt technique to paint speckled, watercolor frogs.

DANCING JELLYFISH- Ocean Aid

Jellyfish dance and drift through the water, and are found in every ocean on Earth! Kids dive in and learn about these mysterious creatures of the deep. They also learn about conservationist Jacques Cousteau and marine life artist Wayland, and their shared love for underwater ecosystems. Kids create colorful, mixed media hanging jellyfish using a special ink diffusion technique.

LION SCULPTURES- Protecting the Pride

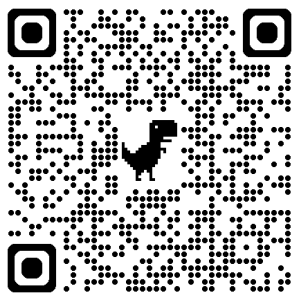

Lions are majestic animals, and fearsome predators. It's no wonder a group of them is called a "pride"! Kids find out more about this vulnerable species and some of the people working to protect them. They learn how to create their own lion sculptures and design savanna habitat dioramas for them to live in.

POLAR BEAR MODELS- Arctic Awareness

Polar bears are amazing animals that face many threats to their survival. Kids imagine what life is like for them in the Arctic and walk in the footsteps of Margaret "Mardy" Murie, the grandmother of the conservation movement. They sculpt polar bears on an ice floe. Then they use paints and mixing mediums to create the effects of fur and ice.

WATERCOLOR SHARKS AND FISHES - Safeguarding the Seascape

The streamlined shapes of sharks and fishes are perfect for living underwater. Kids use simple shapes to draw them swimming in a coral reef. Then they add watercolor paint to create a colorful scene under the sea and learn about Eugenie Clark, who was known as "The Shark Lady" because of all the research and work she did to promote marine conservation.
